SCHOOL DAYS "DAZE THAT IS!" VOTE "YES" ON SCHOOL BONDS!!

Monday's school registration in Daly City saw many a mother stagger home muttering "Johnny in the morning, Judy in the afternoon — how am I going to stand the strain?"

Primary and elementary teachers had obviously shifted their nervous systems into "high gear" in preparation for a long, hard winter of double sessions! Vacation "bloom" was fading fast from the cheeks of everyone concerned with the school system.

No amount of talk, no amount of advertising could work so constructively for the coming School Bond Election. "We need more schools!" echoed up and down every street in town on Monday.

September 29th is the day for you, the citizens concerned, to vote on that Bond Issue. DO YOUR BEST, VOTE YES! on propositions A and B.

For those seeking the facts of the case — watch your mail box! Sample ballots and pamphlets will be mailed each registered voter.

— Stop Swing-Shift Classes —

This is the plan for one of the new classrooms you will allow the Jefferson elementary school district to build by a "Yes" vote on the school bond election September 29. Only by casting a favorable vote in the election will you be able to end the present double sessions in Daly City schools. Whether or not this plan gets off the architect's blue print depends entirely on you. Don't fail the school children of this district. Vote "Yes" Friday, September 29. (Picture made possible by Mike Callan, school board trustee.)

Sullivan Now Holds Record

Can anyone top this record for giving blood to the San Mateo County blood bank?

R. J. Sullivan, 347 San Diego avenue, reports that he has given 21 pints of his blood to the bank over the past few years.

The Daly City man is a member of the Colma Vista Grande Aerie No. 1848, FOE, and is employed as a salesman with the Jama Realty Company.

In making this report, Sullivan takes over the "first donor" position from Mrs. Mary Wakefield, 475 Evergreen, who last week reported she has given 16 pints of blood.

Is there anyone who can push Sullivan out of first place for this worthy position? If so, call the Daly City Record at PLaza 5-4321, and your name will appear in the paper next week.

MAYOR PAUL GREEN URGES ALL TO VOTE "YES" ON SCHOOL BONDS

Calling on every parent in Daly City and Broadmoor to start making arrangements to vote at the special school election on Friday, September 29, Mayor Paul Green, general chairman of the Citizens Committee For Better Schools, said today, "There are only two weeks to go before the school election and every adult owes it to the children of the area to vote 'YES' on both Proopsition A and Proposition B."

Proposition A authorizes increasing the bonded indebtedness of the school district to five per cent of the assessed valuation, which is required before the local district can qualify for more than two million dollars of construction money to be advanced by the State.

Proposition B authorizes the district to contract with the State of California for an advance of more than two million dollars to aid school construction in the Jefferson District.

A YES vote on both Propositions is required, and both must pass by a two-thirds majority if present crowded conditions and double sessions in the schools are to be eliminated.

Voting places will be at the school house nearest each registered voter.

Every social, fraternal and service organization in the school district has endorsed the two School Propositions, urging a YES vote on both A and B, and mothers' groups, PTA and individual civic leaders were also strongly in support of both proposals.

Voters were urged to make a note on their calendars for Friday, September 29, to make sure they will remember to vote.

Cub Pack No. 84 To Hold Family Fun Day For All Residents September 17

All of Broadmoor and Daly City today was invited to take part in Cub Pack No. 84's Fall Family Fun Day, Sunday, September 17.

News of the big event was first made known in the Broadmoor area with the mailing of mysterious postcards two weeks ago. The cards listed nothing but the date and a hint that the family day will involve "white elephants."

Well, today the big news came out.

Purpose of the day will be to unload your "white elephants" on some other unsuspecting, but perhaps grateful, person. These can consist of anything from a 1909 model Ford to a set of porcelain plates. Only qualification is that the gifts be wrapped in paper and box to disguise their true identity.

Time of the big event is from 11 a.m. on at the Equitation Field, Golden Gate park, Forty-first avenue entrance.

In addition to the sale there will be a variety of entertainment from ball games to a young lady doing tricks with her pet horse.

Meanwhile, the Pack this week welcomed Mrs. Richard Lambson as the new den mother for Pack No. 5.

State P. U. C. Has Approved Extension Of Knowles Avenue

Work Scheduled To Begin This Year

Better cross-town traffic conditions, and elimination of a dangerous condition on Junipero Serra boulevard were in the offing today, as City Attorney Frank B. Blum announced that the State Public Utilities Commission had approved the city's request for the extension of Knowles avenue across the Southern Pacific railroad tracks to enter Junipero Serra boulevard.

The street will be constructed with State gas tax funds and traffic signals and channelization similar to the School street and Junipero Serra intersection will be installed.

At the same time, the State Division of Highways will eliminate the wye at the Junipero Serra, Alemany extension intersection and form a straight crossing so that local residents will be able to drive down Knowles avenue, cross Junipero Serra with signal protection, and proceed over Alemany extension to Skyline boulevard. The work has been scheduled to begin this year.

LOCAL SCHOOL ENROLLMENT UP 400 THIS YEAR

Increase Shows Big Need For More School Facilities

Schools of the Jefferson District opened last Monday with an increase of more than 400 pupils over the first day of school last year. The total enrolled the first day this year was 2417 as against 1996 last year.

Most crowded of the schools is the new Garden Village whose enrollment increased to 560 this year and has forced this school, which was completed last March, to go on double sessions in all grades. It serves the Broadmoor, Westlake and Garden Village areas.

The general increases was about 100 over the figure estimated last spring and is evidence of the rapidity with which builders in the district are completing homes and

PLANS TO FORMULATE NEW SANITATION DISTRICT GIVEN "GO" SIGNAL AT TUESDAY MEETING

Plans to abandon the Colma Sewer Maintenance District and create a new Sanitation District encompassing all of Daly City and adjoining unincorporated area were formulated Tuesday at a meeting of the County Board of Supervisors and members of the Daly City Council in Redwood City. The new district will be entitled the "North San Mateo County Sanitation District."

The new district is required for construction of a sewage disposal plant to treat sewage eminating from the area. At present raw sewage is being discharged on the ocean beach in San Francisco, contrary to State law. Preliminary estimates of the construction were set at $450,000.

Mayor Paul Green, Councilman James H. Kennedy, City Administrator Orrin Wendling and City Engineer R. A. Klassen represented Daly City at the meeting and requested creation of the Sanitation District as the most efficient means of providing proper sewage disposal methods. The request was concurred with by the entire Board of Supervisors, Keith Sorenson of the District Attorney's office, County Engineer M. A. Grant and County Health Director Dr. H. A. Chope.

The supervisors will pass a resolution setting a date for a hearing on formation of the district at their next meeting. The area includes Daly City, Broadmoor and Colma, with the possibility that some of the Crocker Estate property east of Daly City may be added to the

COUNCIL TO CALL FOR NEW BIDS ON COM. CENTER BUILDING

New bids, based on revised specifications, will be called for on Daly City's Memorial Community Center next month, it was announced by Mayor Paul Green today. Last month bids for construction of the building were rejected, the low bid being for $412,000 against an estimated cost of $277,000.

"We are going to build the Memorial Community Center," the Mayor said, "even though we have been forced to cut down on some of the fancy and less essential items originally called for. The building will have the same area as originally called for, but cuts will be made in elaborate lighting and heating arrangements and we will do the landscaping and furnishing out of general revenues, to bolster the limited funds available from the 1949 bond issue."

The City Council met last week with Architect Mario J. Ciampi to revise the plans and Ciampi is currently employed in revising specifications for the job. No major construction feature will be eliminated in the new plans.

The plans are being revised so that eventually the building will be exactly as originally planned, with the City adding less essential features from current revenues from time to time after the main structure is completed.

"NEW LOOK" FOR DALY CITY NEARS COMPLETION

The "new look" in Daly City was getting better this week as the Pacific Gas and Electric company completed installation of mercury high-lumen street lights from the top of the hill all the way down Mission street to San Pedro road.

Completion of the next phase, from top of the hill northerly on Mission street to the county line, will be completed within thirty days.

The $32,000 project will make Mission street the best lighted strip of El Camino Real in the State of California.

Elimination of the old trolley wires and cables on Mission street is being accomplished along with installation of the new lights, which provide more than double the lighting capacity of the old ones.

66 To Be Called In County Draft

San Mateo county's draft quota was set at 66 this week in the first call for draftees since the Korean war.

The men (approximately four will be from Daly City) will be taken from a pool of selectees who already have passed pre-induction physical examinations.

State selective service headquarters set the number in calling for the delivery of 3,782 men from September 25 through September 29. However, Col. Kenneth H. Leitch, state director, said probably not more than 2,950 actually will be delivered for induction. The quota is designed to cover losses after draft orders have been issued.

Henry And Ellis Stoneson Donate Half Acre Lot Adjoining Edgewood Park For Recreation Purposes

Daly City s park and playground program was given impetus this week when Mayor Paul Green announced that Henry and Ellis Stoneson had donated a half acre lot adjoining Edgewood Park to the City for recreation purposes. This donation, added to one lot already donated by the Stonesons plus a large parcel acquired by the City early this year, will make possible a larger park for the Edgewood Terrace-Hillside Manor area than had previously been planned.

"The generosity of the Stoneson Bros., and their interest in the recreation problems of Daly City, should be deeply appreciated by the people of the city," said Mayor Green. "It proves that builders do not necessarily have hearts of stone, and that they are trying to do their part for the development of the community."

As a result of the gift, plans for Edgewood Park will be revised to take advantage of the larger area, and further grading operations will be commenced in about ten days. Originally designed principally as a small tots playground, facilities for older groups will be designed in the new plan.

Meanwhile, the city announced that land had been acquired for the new Acton street - Frankfort street park and that grading operations at that site will be started early in October.

Construction of curbs for tanbark and sand areas at Lincoln Park was scheduled to begin this week, after which the entire paved area will be re-surfaced and new play equipment installed. The city has acquired three lots on Winchester street for the enlargement of Lincoln Park, but will await demolition of a building on one of the lots before developing the new area.

Bids for the completion of the upper and middle levels at Marchbanks will be opened on September 25.

COUNCIL CALLS FOR PARK PAVING BIDS BY SEPTEMBER 25th

City Approves Parking Meter Contract

Advertising for bids for the completion of the Marchbanks Park development and approval of a contract with the Magee-Hale parking meter company for installation of parking meters in Daly City were the highlights of Monday night's meeting of the City Council.

Bids will be received on September 25 for paving of play areas and walks at Marchbanks Park, completing the middle and upper levels with recreational facilities for all age groups.

The Council selected the Park-O-Meter parking meter, in use in San Francisco and Redwood City, after examining more than seven other types submitted for approval. An engineering survey will be started next week to determine the exact number of meters required to solve Daly City's parking problem. It is expected that parking meters will ease congested parking facilities and prove to be a boon to merchants as well as shoppers.

The Council also received a letter from Stoneson Bros., builders of Edgewood Terrace, announcing that Henry and Ellis Stoneson would donate a half-acre tract adjoining Edgewood Park to the City for recreational purposes. Mayor Paul Green had requested the Stonesons to consider the matter.

In other actions, the Council approved employment of Thomas Jones as a mechanic in the Water Department, and approved part payments to water and street contractors in the Concordia Tract. A request by the Fay company for additional time to complete the street contract in Concordia was deferred until next meeting.

An ordinance creating fire districts throughout the city was passed on second reading and an ordinance setting up parking meters was introduced by Councilman Edward J. Mooney.

Plans Underway For O L P H Giant Carnival OF Nations

Plans for the O.L.P.H. Carnival, which will be held October 13, 14 and 15 in the parish hall, are well under way. Chairmen for the various booths are being lined up and a complete list of workers will soon be available.

Some of the hardest booths to fill and most important to the youngsters, at least, are the children's booths. Those who organize these booths and staff them are required to have nerves of steel, perfect health and coordination, patience of a saint, a good pair of lungs, and if one is slightly deaf, it helps! The brave women who will have charge of these games are: Mrs. "Jo" Lamendola, chairman, assisted by Mrs. Mildred Barone, Mrs. Mildred Sims, Mrs. Marian Balestreri, Mrs. Dolly Brush, Mrs. Betty Brush and Mrs. Isabelle Liberti.

The children's concessions are held in the old school rooms in back of the church. There is a two-fold purpose in this banishment to "Siberia," as former workers have named it. First, the youngsters can whoop and yell to their hearts' content without anyone to lift an eyebrow or "don't" them. Short of mayhem and arson, anything goes. Secondly, it allows the adults to enjoy themselves without the danger of stopping a flying dart, or getting caught by some enthusiastic "fisherman" at the Fish Pond, who usually have more enthusiasm than skill. It must be admitted that in times past the kids have sometimes had quite a time pushing their way through the grown-ups, who can't resist trying their skill.

In addition to the popular dart games, fish pond, grab boxes, etc. something is being added — a Hopalong Cassidy booth, and several delightful surprises in connection with this booth, are promised. The committee had thought to have the famous gentleman himself as a feature attraction but, with Hollywood commitments, the TV, parades, etc., they decided he might be too busy, so Mrs. Mildred Barone has offered to substitute for "Hoppy." She is convinced that no one will be able to tell the difference, so be sure to attend the Carnival and see for yourself.

WESTLAKE WHIRL

by Marian Christians PLaza 5-0946

Harry Bosbery, secretary of the Westlake Improvement Association, announced that the next general meeting of the Association has been postponed until Wednesday, September 27, in the Jefferson Union High School auditorium at 8:15 p.m. The meeting will be followed by refreshments served in the cafeteria. It is hoped all will attend as several important matters are to be discussed.

The officers of the Association have written letters to the San Francisco Municipal Railway and to the Pacific Greyhound Bus Co. requesting service for Westlake. I am sure a great many who have cars available would be glad to eliminate the parking problem in downtown areas and patronize the busses if such were available.

To date there are 737 persons in Westlake elegible to vote on September 29. The School Bond is surely of vital interest to all of us, so be sure to get out and cast a "Yes" vote for A and B on the ballot. The polls will be open from 7 a.m. to 7 p.m. and will be located at the home of Charles Becker, No. 5 Fieldcrest drive.

J. M. Deignan, head of the School Bond election drive, has requested some assistance from the women in the tract. All interest in helping on a house-to-house canvass in Westlake please contact Mrs. Lucille Moses, 177 Westlawn, PLaza 5-2524.

It was surely a pleasure when the street lights in the "upper" end of the tract came on last Friday evening. The men are even contemplating doing their "yard work" by streetlight. All we need now are those STREET SIGNS and just about everything will be perfect.

Sorry there are no personal items this week, but I have almost worn out my neighbors. I would surely appreciate calls from other residents of Westlake at any time.

CAVORTING IN THE NUDE BRINGS 30 DAY JAIL TERM

Cavorting in the all-together was lent a new twist here by one Elizabeth Hopkins, who claims Tacoma as her home, by draping herself in only a blanket as she tripped along the sidewalks of San Diego avenue.

Of course, she had a good story to tell the police. The plump, 26 year old blond related that she was picked up by a "nice young fellow" who suggested a pleasant ride in his chariot.

But instead of whisking her along the scenic roads, she said he sped straight to a secluded glen where he failed to comply with the rules of a gentleman.

Then, to add to the insult, he proceeded to strip her of her last stitch. As if that weren't enough, he then ejected her from his car, still clad in the nude.

At this point, the police take up the story to divulge that in several neighboring cities, Elizabeth was seen dallying along the road or diving into passing cars.

The officers insist that it must have been the same girl, for always her only drape consisted of the well known blanket. They added they were unable to get the names of any of the lotharios involved.

At last she was spotted by the local police, slightly bedraggled for the experience. They whisked her away to the calaboose, giving her an extra blanket for precautionary measures.

However, there was a rude awakening for her. She was taken before Judge Sweeney who promptly decided that such goings on merited 30 days in the clink.

Benjamin Picetti Wins Malicious Prosecution Suit

Benjamin Picetti, of Colma, has won his malicious prosecution action against the Service Lumber Co., of San Francisco, it was learned today, following a reported "large" settlement of the $100,000 suit.

The case was tried in the superior court, Redwood City, before Judge Draper, and after presenting evidence to a jury for one day, a settlement was reached and approved by the court and jury.

Relating the details, Thomas L. Bocci, attorney for the plaintiff, divulged that sometime in October, 1948, Picetti, a prominent and reputable nurseryman, was arrested and charged with receiving stolen goods.

Picetti was booked at the Redwood City jail and required to put up bail in the sum of $2,500. The complaint was sworn out by Harry C. Hill, as agent for the lumber company. It subsequently was dismissed.

district boundaries. No objections to the project are anticipated, since disposal facilities are required by State law and residents of the area have for some years been in favor of eliminating the health hazard at the beach, occasioned by dumping of raw sewage in the ocean.

Attorney Ernest Wilson, recognized expert on such affairs, estimated bonds for erection of the disposal plant could be financed on an eleven or twelve cent tax rate. This will result in a saving to most of the area, which now pays an eighteen cent tax rate for the Colma Sewer Maintenance District. The broadened assessed valuation factor because of the larger area in the proposed Sanitation District was credited for the reduced tax rate.

When formed, the Sanitation District will be headed by three directors, two from the City Council and one from the County Board of Supervisors.

Ice Cream Land Has Treat In Store For Jeff Hi Pupils

The lads and lassies attending Jefferson High School are in for a real treat from Ice Cream Land, 2159 Junipero Serra boulevard, it was learned from James M. Denny, the proprietor.

Jim started to relate just what the "treat" consisted of, then thought better. Instead, he said that he would wait until all was in readiness for the announcement.

Meanwhile, Mr. Denny asserted that he was doubling the usual $5 offer for the one who consumed the most ice cream during the week, that is, if they bettered the record set up by George Ritter, who tucked away 23 scoops.

However, Jim said that he feared the feat of George would be mighty difficult to top. However, there is a shiny new $10 bill awaiting the new champion.

At the same time, he revealed that homemakers are increasingly recognizing ice cream as a significant food contribution to daily meals.

Proof of this lies in the statement that the present annual consumption is 28 pints per person compared to 19 pints in 1940, a jump of 47 per cent. This is based on the 1949 ice cream production total of nearly 600,000,000 gallons.

Scientists say that one average serving of ice cream gives the consumer the same amount of calcium and high quality protein as one half glass of milk. This high food value is due to the fact that 80 per cent is composed of sweetening and flavors. The nutritional products of milk and cream give ice cream significant amounts of protein, calcium, vitamin A and riboflavin, all esential, say scientists, for growth and for developing strong bones, sound teeth, good eyes, and robust health.

Take It Easy Near Schools

"School's Open. Driving or Walking . . . Take It Easy."

This message is addressed to automobile drivers and to school children by the California State Automobile Association.

In an appeal for cooperation with the School Safety Patrols, the CSAA pointed out that careful driving in school zones, essential at all times, is particularly important during the opening weeks of the term when many small children, unaccustomed to traffic hazards, are attending clases for the first time.

Drivers are reminded by the CSAA of the following provisions of the Vehicle Code for the protection of school children:

1. The speed limit is 15 miles per hour while passing a school building or school grounds where children are entering or leaving school, during recess, and at times when school playgrounds are in use by children.

2. A full stop is required of drivers before passing a school bus stopped on any street, highway or road to receive or discharge children, except when the school bus is on the opposite roadway of a divided highway.

3. Disregarding a traffic signal or direction given by a member of a School Safety Patrol is a misdemeanor.

BAYSHORE VISITACION VALLEY

By Bernice Hendryx JUniper 4-6449

VOTE! VOTE! VOTE! Another election is upon us. September 18 we go to the polls to vote on two members for our Sanitary Board and an Assessor for our Sanitary Board. Jimmy Throne and Lonnie Higgins are running for seats on the board against incumbents Anthony Beckel and Vincent Morris. Harold Salisberry, present Assessor, is not seeking reelection. Manuel Silva and Jim Mills are the two who will seek the office.

At most of the elections here in the valley, the number who turn out to vote is very small, in comparison with the number of registered voters in the area. It may be that many of you feel that those small elections are not important enough to spend the time finding out about. Many of the pople in here have come from San Francisco, where an election is run on a large scale, and people are made to realize its importance. It takes big money to run an election on that scale, and the people running for office here are not affiliated with sources of big amounts of campaign money. As a result, these elections are passed up by many as small potatoes. That is a mistake.

Your valley elections are just as important to your health and welfare, and also your pocketbook, as any of your larger ones. Your neighbors who go into office on these local boards control the efficiency of service and grade of service that you receive in your water, fire control, and sewage disposal. How much money it costs them to maintain a high grade of service is brought home to you in your taxes. In other words, the people in Bayshore are the ones who pay the bill for these services. You wouldn't think of hiring a carpenter who wasted materials. You would make a point of checking that man's output, and his expense to you.

Many of you may feel that a few cents one way or the other isn't worth arguing over. Believe me, it can come to much more than a few cents. Therefore, put a little time into this, neighbors, and use your right to vote. That gives you a right to be heard.

The Fords are home again. Bert and Jessie, along with their daughter Alice and granddaughter Beverly took in Denver, K. C., St. Louis, Memphis, and came back the southern route, through El Paso. Alice drove a new Ford home, and speaking of new cars in the east, there ain't none, folks! According to Bert, they are very hard to come by. Alice was lucky enough to hit a dealer who had this car ordered for someone else, and the fellow didn't take it. Going back to the factory to pick up a new car isn't the breeze that we out here expect it to be.

Company News: Mr. and Mrs. Wilhelm and Miss Ruth Isker, from Minneapolis, spent a week with the Kartes family on Acacia street. The ladies are the aunts of Lila Kartes, Gladys Williams, and Don Kurtz, all residents of Bayshore.

Mrs. Harry Wedenkofer was pleasantly surprised not long ago. She saw a car drive up in front, and who should alight but two of her sisters whom she hadn't seen for twelve years. They made a surprise visit to her from Colorado.

E. H. Megel bowed out formally at a recent Water Board meeting, as clerk of the board, turning the job over to Mrs. Nellie Throne. Mr. Megel's books were all in good order, according to an audit, and Nellie starts off with a clean slate. We hate to see Mr. Megel go. He has held various positions in the valley in the past few years, and has always produced highly satisfactory work. The water board expressed their regret at his resignation, and commended him highly.

Hunting News: Joe Walling returned from his hunting trip in Mendocino. Spent most of his vacation building fire trails. Some thirty square miles burned, between Longvale, Laytonville, and Dos Rios. Some claim it was set off by a locomotive. Just a week before then, a railroad man, attempting to light a rail signal, set off a fire that lasted four days.

Tony Beckel and son Forrest returned from their Willits cabin with a four pointer. Not so bad, fellows.

Cliff Richards made a hunting trip to Cloverdale. Rumor has it that he returned with two bucks. What time is dinner Cliff?

Mrs. Dietrich is not feeling too well. Celia has been under the weather for a few weeks now. Give her a call, friends, and cheer her up.

Carl Alt's father and mother have returned from Fresno, where they have been living for some months.

Pamela Leotta, great-granddaughter of the Fords, was taken to Emergency hospital, where they shaved the top of her head, and removed splinters of glass. A lamp fell on her, shattering and imbedding glass in her scalp.

Buddy Gaines, son of Mrs. Idaho Gaines, was reported killed in action in Korea. The Gaines family is well known in the district, and we extend our deepest sympathy.

New PTA officers will be ratified at the Friday meeting of the executive board. Officers who must be replaced are vice-president, recording secretary hospitality chairman, and membership chairman.

Mrs. Mae Painchaud, PTA president, attended the first seventeenth district meeting of the new term, and reported a nice turnout.

The next regular PTA meeting for Bayshore will be September 22.

Helene Wacek Discusses Reading At Second Annual Jefferson Institute

As the highlight of the second annual Jefferson School District local Institute and pre-school opening workshop teachers of the elementary schools heard Miss Wacek, reading consultant of the Scott-Foresman Company present the needs for a well-rounded program in reading. Miss Wacek, who has been in charge of the University of Iowa reading clinic and director of reading for the Omaha Public schools stressed that all teaching must consider the past experiences of the learner as a "bridge" to future learning. She further stated that reading is more than mere recitation of words and is the outward manifestation of thinking. Repitition may or may not indicate thought, she concluded.

Other sessions of the Workshop which continued for four days included basic planning in each of the skill subjects, health, art, speech and music under the administrative staff of the local district.

Superintendent of Schools Snell, under whose direction the Workshop was held complimented the local teaching staff on their loyalty to the American way of life and their zeal for helping children find the right way. "Let this, dual love of democracy and of children set the theme for our school year," urged Snell on bringing the Workshop to a close.

Fingerprints May Trap Gas Thief

What is described as just about the meanest cadger of all, one who pilfers gas from an auto tank, had better beware from now on—if it isn't too late already.

Seems that for some time this character or characters has been waiting until the dead of night to stealthily sneak up on the trucks of Dan Goodwin, 1861 Jnnipero Serra Blvd., roofing contractor, and withdraw gasoline.

However, Wednesday night he or they removed the cap and left it on the running board. Forthwith, the quick thinking Daly City gendarmes pounced on it for fingerprints. Hence, the snide operators may be caught soon.

Gala Reopening Of Harry's Bakery Brings Big Crowd

The gala reopening of Harry's Bakery Shop at 7388 Mission St. last Friday received wide acclaim, it was learned today. The entirely revamped store and the many gifts to the patrons met with keen approval according to a number of the customers.

The face lifting operation, which included all new settings and a paint job, was undertaken to facilitate the mode of dispensing merchandise and to modernize the general appearance of the ever growing shop in popularity.

With it all, Harry asked the Record to express his sincere thanks to all those who attended his reopening. He said it was a distinct pleasure for him to see all the new as well as old faces streaming through the doors.

The new store is the crowning climax for Harry Castiglioni, a man of these parts who has worked his way up from a baker's apprentice to where he is now recognized as a master in his art.

Following service with prominent baking concerns in San Mateo county and San Francisco, Harry joined the navy at the outbreak of World War II. But, unlike many, he was put to work in his line aboard trim battle craft.

At the end of the conflict, Harry decided to go into business for himself, and naturally chose this area, he asserted. In fact, he started out just four years ago in his present location and will remain there indefinitely, he said.

Harry is mighty proud of the various innovations he has brought to his profession. Right off he wants it known that he is the originator of strawberry angel food shortcake, a very popular concoction at this moment.

The House that CONVICTION BUILT

When many people have the same conviction about a thing, they usually get together. They become members of a party, or a society, or a congregation.

Every Sunday in the churches of our community many people get together. They have the same conviction about God—they worship together.

When they worship, they offer thanks, they ask help. They sing to express their happiness. They listen to enrich their minds with the truth that comes from God. And before they bow their heads to receive final benediction, they give such gifts as they can to their Lord's work.

All of us have need for worship—it is a part of human nature and the divine will of God. So for your greatest benefit and happiness, choose a Church in this community —attend its services and join in its work. Make it YOUR CHURCH.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . . ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

BOB SILVESTRI COMES THROUGH WITH TWO WINS

Dame Fortune has finally smiled on Bob Silvestri.

Always a contender but rarely a winner, Bob came through to capture not one golf trophy but two, during the last few days of hotly contested matches hereabouts.

One was the Green Hills Country Club's third annual invitational tournament and the other was to tie for first place in the California Golf Club's team match invitational.

About the former, the Daly City club wielder smashed out a flaming 68 the second time out, and paired with his slick total of 70 previously, sent him home with a stellar total of 138.

Concerning the latter, Bob teamed up with Einar Hanson of Sharp Park last Saturday, to even out with Bob Cardinal and Doctor Robert Knudson, the host of the club.

The Silvestri - Hanson team rolled up a top score of 31-34 or 65, while the others came out with 33-32, a 65.

Prior to these sensational wins, Bob Silvestri usually managed to taper off at the wrong moment. But in these two matches, the ill luck that has dogged him suddenly passed out of the picture, much to the delight of the host of friends who have been cheering him on for such a victory.

Thief Returns Car; But Not In Good Condition Says Owner

William Culbert, of 27 San Joaquin avenue, started to get real angry and then ended up only half perturbed.

It seems that during Wednesday night a sneak thief made off with Culbert's convertible, took it for a joyride, crashed it into another car, but then returned it to the owner's driveway.

Steamed at first, Culbert finally admitted to the police that the thief was half-way honest, anyway.

American Legion Auxiliary Members Support Big "C"

Seven members of the Daly City American Legion Auxiliary whizzed off in the Girl Scout station wagon last week and stuffed the five hundred Community Chest kits necessary for the 1950 drive.

Those who volunteered their time and effort were Vivian Pahlka, Ethel Harris, Carol Harris, Kathleen Matzek, Lenora O'Neil, Margaret Rector, and Hazel Emerson.

Margaret Rector, unofficial chairman of the group, had this to say for all of the ladies. "We were very happy to help the Chest and are looking forward to being called on again." Thank you, all of you Legion members — not only for this particular job of work, but for the many, many fine things you do for the community.

Under the fine leadership of your new president, Minnie Bernardi, let us wish you the best in the year 1950!

YOUR DALY CITY GARDEN CLUB NEWS

By ELSIE M. GARRISON

Lying on a raft in the middle of Blue Lake, is about the last place I would expect to find material for the gardening column, and being on vacation, and a belated one at that, I was concentrating more on bathing than bulbs. A raft, as most of you know, is an ideal spot for conversation, and the gamut had been run from communism to cubism, when probably in a tactful mood, gardening was brought up, in what way I do not remember, except that I felt it would not be quite so controversial as the subjects that had preceded it. However, it was attacked in the same manner of debate, and first thing I knew it had resolved itself down to the question, "Who should do the gardening around the house?"

Present on the raft, in variegated stages of tan, were several men and women, and two teen-agers, plus one small, very sun-blackened little monster, who kept diving on and off the raft, shocking the sunwarmed bodies with resultant spray, thus causing everyone to gasp in dismay. One woman, a trim figure with an enviable tan, complained that gardening takes too much time for the homemaker to do, without the co-operation of the man of the house. I was entirely sympathetic to her story, and her scientific analysis of the work a woman does in the home, had me marvelling at my own prowess. I was beginning to feel deserving of the extra week I had inveigled. One of the men, who till this moment had been sunning in deep and faceless concentration, turned over on one elbow and said dryly, "The trouble with some women is that they are not satisfied to arrange the home on the inside, they want to do the outside too — with their men supplying all the work.

"Then, after holding the reigns and giving all the lip-service and advice, they compare the results of the job with some other Joe down the street whose work allows him more time and who can afford to spend more money. Women think that trees, bushes and plants can be moved around like furniture," he continued, "and when they die or don't do well, we are to blame! I think gardening should be for bachelors."

Another man, who had the distinction of owning the only pack of cigarettes in the crowd, did not seem to be so bitter toward women, but observed that more men would garden and enjoy it, too, if their wives would have equipment on hand, and join in and keep the old man company.

A teener, who was busy applying baby oil to her sun-tan, stopped long enough to tell about the fun she had when the "victory" gardens were undertaken. "We worked every evening on it, sometimes only an hour or so, but everything grew! It was a big thrill to me to see the tiny plants shoot out of the soil. I have always lived in the city and I guess I didn't realize that vegetables are not grown in cellophane packages."

After the controversy had died down a little someone brought up the San Mateo Fiesta, and I was reminded of the many amateur gardeners who were ready and working on their exhibits. Each year this event is attracting more attention, and last year several local entries won awards.

Since my arrival home I was very happy to learn that Eunice Steele, organist who played so beautifully last year, in fact for the past four, I believe, will be featured again at the Fiesta, giving both afternoon and evening recitals.

Good news to both San Franciscans and Daly City-zens is the proposed Hall of Flowers, which would provide quarters for horticultural endeavors of all types, besides housing the San Francisco Flower show, which has outgrown its former quarters in the City Hall rotunda. Its location would be in Golden Gate Park.

Mrs. Aimee Bunkley, who is president of the Daly City Garden Club, was the unanimous choice of the Board of the local Community Chest for residential chairman. The rare organizational ability which she possesses is beginning to show, as plans are going into their final stages for the big "one hour drive" October 1. This date falls on a Sunday, and the collection will be for one hour only between one and two in the afternoon. Volunteers are still needed however, and I am sure most of you who have given time to those drives which add so much to the American way of life, will agree heartily to the more balanced ratio where ten volunteers work one hour, instead of one volunteer working ten. Quite obviously, a great deal more volunteers are required. If you possibly can, please phone Mrs. Keith, PL 5-6481, or Mrs. Bunkley (evenings), PL 5-6417. So much depends on your response.

Wish to thank Mr. Shirl Mollette for covering the column in my absence and am sure many gardeners were helped by his articles. Also to acknowledge the calls I have received and letters, which are very encouraging. The "gripes" I will have to cover next week. So, till then, better start planning the flowers you will want for holiday blooming, and get them in promptly.

There was a good attendance for the opening day and real enthusiasm for the new project was in evidence. Mr. Alvin Brunhofer not only directed the spirited singing in the adult department, but also presented a beautiful baritone solo.

Plans are going forward for "pick-up" service for boys and girls living at a distance. Anyone desiring transportation may call JU 7-1733 or JU 7-7892. The First Christian Church, Duboce and Noe streets furnished the entire staff for the opening session. Ernest Wade was greeted by a large class of adults. It was interesting to see the small children.

Harold Emmert, treasurer of the new organization, reported that the initial offering of the school was devoted entirely to missionary causes. Any person not now attending a Sunday school is invited to take part in this important protestant enterprise.

Sunday Miss Marcia Golden will play a violin solo accompanied by Carrol Bate. Mrs. Earl Lefebvre and Mrs. Henry Blair are superintendents of the new Sunday school.

If Men, 35 Is A Lonely Number

By Ridgely Cummings

Coincidence is the mother of happenstance. I probably didn't invent this aphorism but it makes a nice introduction for what I have to write. If seemingly unrelated events did not bring about unexpected results I would not now be able to tell you something about life on the Great Lakes. The fact that I can, stems from my making experimental movies and acquiring an old jalopy.

During the movie-making sessions I became acquainted with an artistic young man named Wolfe whose consuming ambition was to go to Paris this winter.

To get to Paris, Wolfe needed money as don't we all. Wolfe was grimly trading time for dollars in an auto plant in Detroit and spending his week ends helping us make an epic called "One Is a Lonesome Number."

I suppose he wasn't a good slave. Anyway he got fired, manpower shortage and all.

Someone told Wolfe that a good way to acquire a bundle of cash was to go to work on the steamers that ply the Lakes, carrying loads of ore and coal and grain. He scurried around, learned the procedure required and the addresses one must visit to go to work on the ships and then, because I had a car, asked me to drive him to the Lake Carrier's hall.

Over a Bar

This hiring hall is run by an association of shipowners. It is over top of a bar, in a wooden building near the Detroit river. The sailors register upstairs and wait for ships on bar stools downstairs.

There was a shortage of men the day Wolfe and I went there and while he was going through the formalities of registering I happened to mention that I had been on deep water during the war.

The eyes of the man behind the desk lit up eagerly. He painted for me a glowing picture of life on the Lake ships and within a few hours I had bought some dungarees and work gloves, borrowed a heavy leather jacket and rain gear and was laboring on the deck of a ship belonging to the Bethlehem Steel Company.

It was an ore ship, bound for the iron mines of Duluth, Minnesota. We carried the ore to a huge steel mill at Lackawana, the slummiest, most depressing, mangiest town I ever saw, five miles from Buffalo where the girls all looked like Lauren Bacall.

Then we went back north and west to Allouez, Wisconsin, for another load of ore and so to Detroit where I got off.

The life of an inland sailor is isolated and strenuous and boring but the few weeks I put in were interesting because it was all new to me.

The season runs from late March to early December. I was fortunate to work my stint during late summer when the weather was relatively kind but even so I shivered on Lake Superior and sweated on Lake Erie.

The winds blow so cold and blustering during the autumn that the companies pay a ten per cent bonus to men who will finish out the season. Despite this inducement many of them quit rather than fight the ice and snow, especially the men who work on deck.

35 in Crew

The ships are manned by a crew of 35 and are of utilitarian design. Mine was more than six hundred feet long, with a pilot house up in the bow and the engines astern and a long expanse of steel hatches in between, into which the ore is dumped.

Dumped is the right word. The vessels are loaded in three or four hours, great spouts shooting the cargo into the holds. They are unloaded almost as fast, in five or six hours, by huge cranes, which means they spend very little time in port.

Since the ore docks where one loads and the steel mills where one discharges are excresences on the extreme outskirts of industrialized centers, and since the work continues in port and at sea, this means that for eight months the men who work the ships never get more than a few hours ashore each trip. If arrival and departure happens to coincide with their working hours, which they call their watch, they don't get off the ship at all that trip.

The men are not the harum-scarum, happy-go-lucky lot one finds on salt water. Mostly they are of farm stock or from the factories; steady, stolid chaps with little imagination whose principal pleasure is eating six meals a day. The ships feed lavishly and by the middle of the season, when I joined, the average weight of the crew is two hundred pounds, though it's not all fat for they have to work too hard for that.

Women and Ships

These men save their wages for they have no chance to spend anything. During the working months they talk mostly about women and I'm told that during the winter they talk about ships.

The Lake country is beautiful. The ships are seldom out of sight of land and during passages up and down the rivers like the St. Clair river, the St. Mary's river and the Detroit river, one could toss a stone and hit green lawns and summer cottages.

Dramatic moment of each trip is going through the Soo for here the mail and newspapers come aboard. The Soo is a system of locks at Saulte Ste. Marie by which Lake Superior is connected with Lake Huron and thus the other lakes. There is a difference of some twenty feet of water level between the western lake and the others, with Lake Superior the higher. Maybe that's how it got its name.

Until a few months ago the Soo was a prime tourist attraction but now it has been declared out of bounds and is bristling with soldiers on guard and anti-aircraft batteries. Any sabotage here would cut off the iron mines of Minnesota and Wisconsin from the steel mills of Ohio and Pennsylvania.

I had planned to write a blow-by-blow account of my voyage but space is dwindling and I haven't gotten beyond generalities yet.

So I might as well close with one. The next time you rake your garden or ride the vanishing streetcar, just remember that the steel in it was made possible by some Lake steamer operated by thirty-five men dedicated to isolation within sight and sound of normal community life.

As old Andy Furuseth once said when he was arrested for strike activity connected with organizing a sailor's union, "You can put me in jail but I won't be more lonely than I was at sea." The same goes for the lakes and thirty-five can be a lonely number too.

News Of General Pershing P. T. A.

By Mrs. D. C. Gensel

This year finds many new improvements in our Jefferson Elementary district schools. Our fine school superintendent, James Snell, and the school board certainly deserves a hand for these accomplishments that were so greately needed. As time goes by many more things are to be done. In the General Pershing school multi-use room the floors have been covered in a green rubber tile, and the kitchen has been completely done over. The furnaces all have been cleaned. There are new rubber treads on all the stairs.

The General Pershing PTA workers are planning a most interesting program. Several women, along with their president, Mrs. A. Lauffenberger, are meeting at the home of Mrs. George Freeland to complete these plans. The budget and finance committee is getting together a budget for approval of the membership at the nevt meeting.

October 3 begins the General Pershing PTA membership enrollment campaign for 1950 and '51. Let's all join this year. The meetings are held the first Tuesday of each month at 1:30 in the school. Come and meet your child's teacher and discuss with him or her your child's problems.

By all means, do not forget the school bond election. Double sessions can be eliminated by voting yes.

Marie's Place Loses Close Game To S.F. Padres

By Angelo Craviotto

In a nip and tuck battle Marie's Place bowed to the San Francisco Padres 7-5. The Padres exploded for three runs in the first, and from there on it looked like a runaway.

Marie's nine came back in the fifth with three runs all with two away. With a brand new tilt, both sides settled down to great playing. The Padres scooted to the lead once again in the sixth 4-3 only to have it tied in the last half of the sixth, four all. Then Marie's took a momentary lead of 5-4 again to have it tied five all.

Then the roof caved in for Marie's Place. With one away the Padres got a man on first, the next batter tore the hide off the ball for extra bases, which meant the ball game.

The records for pitchers now stand:

	Wins	Losses	Pct.
Donley	3	1	.750
Canepa	3	2	.600
Allain	0	2	.000
Totals	6	5	.537

Marie's Place team's average for batting is .294. Martinelli and Canepa lead in the extra base blows. Craviotto, at the present, leads in times at bat, 42 and hits, 15. The title for runs scored is held by Pete Delfino with 12. Stolen bases, Craviotto with 12.

With his flashlight in hand, Canepa will be looking for his fourth win in six starts.

Until next week I'll see you at 6005 Mission street.

Fiberglass "Guzzlers" Aid Quail Hunters

The quail of California are the latest to benefit from a development of science known as plasti-impregnated fiberglass.

Combined with the know-how of game managers of the Division of Fish and Game, money obtained from the sale of hunting licenses, and plenty of hard labor, the new material is being formed into devices which provide a vital year-round supply of water to quail in semi-arid regions of the State.

Earlier "guzzlers," as the automatic watering tanks are called, were made of concrete. State crews often spent three or four days constructing the cement reservoir and apron.

Now with the aid of a preformed fiberglass tank, Bureau of Game Conservation employees are able to set up the quail headquarters in a mater of hours. The new rain-collecting apron is also of glass fiber material, impregnated with asphalt emulsion.

Tests showed the plastic glass guzzler and apron to be as strong and lasting as the former cement type. While material costs are now higher, the increase is offset by lower labor expenses.

The lightweight glass guzzler permits carrying by two men to remote locations where construction of concrete installations was impossible.

Credit for inaugurating the new procedure goes to southern California Game Manager Fred Ross, who got the idea from the increasingly popular fiberglass fishing boats. The guzzlers are molded in a rectangular form, and resemble an oversized bathtub. They may be nested and transported on a jeep.

With more than 700 concrete guzzlers placed in central and southern California locations since 1945, Ross predicts that nearly all future installations will be the new fiberglass models.

The original guzzler was invented by Ben Glading, now chief of the game conservation bureau. The device features a large smooth-surfaced apron which collects and diverts rain water into the water trap, where it is available to quail and other small game throughout the year.

Bay Meadows Allots Five Welfare Days During Fall Season

Despite economic conditions, General Manager William P. Kyne has scheduled five welfare days for the fall turf season at Bay Meadows, where 51 days of racing begin Saturday with the first five days to be conducted by the San Mateo County Fair.

Eleven worthy causes will receive substantial contributions as a result of the five Bay Meadows welfare days, which are a continuation of the California Jockey Club's policy of assisting deserving projects.

During the last war Bay Meadows made the largest contribution to the war effort of any race course in the world and if this aid should again be needed, Kyne states Bay Meadows is ready to use its plant for full support.

The Bay Meadows welfare days and their purposes:

October 14 — F.O.E. Veterans Orphan Fund and Youth Guidance. A swimming pool for boys at the Log Cabin Ranch Home and a donation to the Eagles' fund for helping orphans of veterans are the objects of this welfare day.

November 15 — Jewish Relief, Booker T. Washington Fund and Boys' Summer Camp fund. All three of these projects will benefit from the day's receipts of this date.

November 16 — Livermore Veterans' Hospital Chapel and Santa Barbara Mission Restoration Fund. The work on restoration of one of California's oldest missions and completion of a non-sectarian chapel will be aided by funds from racing on November 16.

November 17 — San Mateo County Red Cross and American Legion Hall at Yreka. Funds contributed from this day will aid in completion of the Legion Hall and also further the commendable work of San Mateo County's Red Cross chapter.

November 18 — The Children's Hospital and Notre Dame Non-Sectarian Centennial Auditorium. This will mark the 17th year that Bay Meadows has contributed to the fine work of the Children's Hospital in San Francisco. An auditorium to serve the peninsula as a music and cultural center will be erected at Belmont, partly with funds from the November 18 welfare day at the races.

Some Ducks Really Get Around

Eighteen years later, and 2500 miles away, a duck banded by a member of the Newman Gun Club has been reported as part of an Alaska hunter's bag.

In 1933, Egbert R. Jones of Ceres banded a male pintail at the Alameda County hunting club. John V. Struck of Ugashik, Alaska, shot the duck near his home late last year.

Metal leg bands are placed on the legs of waterfowl by the California Division of Fish and Game, the U. S. Fish and Wildlife Service, and cooperating sportsmen's groups. Returned bands are important in studying bird migrations, life spans, and other biological factors.

"Second Round" Deer Hunting To Open This Saturday

California hunters will set out Saturday, September 16, in an effort to beat their 1949 record take of 52,000 deer as the State's second, and major deer hunting season opens in 36 counties and portions of counties for a one-month run.

The central and south coastal season comes to a close at one-half hour after sunset Friday, September 15. Deer tag returns for the early hunting season have been lagging approximately 10 per cent behind last year's totals, the Division of Fish and Game reports.

The State's major hunting effort will get under way one-half hour before sunrise Saturday in the Sierra, north coastal, and Lassen-Modoc areas. Portions of San Diego, Riverside, Imperial, and San Bernardino counties are included.

Two bucks is the seasonal limit in Del Norte, Trinity, Humboldt, Tehama, and westerly portions of Shasta and Siskiyou counties. One buck is allowed elsewhere, except that no forked-horns may be taken in Modoc county, and portiors of Lassen, Shasta, and Siskiyou counties.

Shooting hours have been set between one-half hour before sunrise to one-half hour after sunset. Shotguns and pistols are outlawed in deer hunting.

Deer tags, useful in keeping track of hunting pressure and biological trends, must be attached to the antlers of each deer taken. Among those authorized to validate tags are employees of the Division of Fish and Game, State and federal forest rangers, peace officers, justices of the peace, park rangers, and officers of locker or cold storage plants.

Pre-season prospects ranging from "poor" in Humboldt county to "very good" in Placer county have been reported by wardens of the Division of Fish and Game.

For the opening day of the 30-day Sierra, north coastal, and Modoc - Lassen hunting season, wardens predict the following outlook by county:

ALPINE — Good. Most bucks are forked-horns. High fire hazard.

AMADOR — Fair. Bucks smaller than usual. Best hunting above five thousand foot elevation.

Power disappears in many ways in the automobile engine, according to the National Automobile Club. One cause that is forgotten entirely too often is clogging of the muffler. FISH AND GAME NOTES

by Jimmy Fox

Local shooter Jack Tranberg walked away with almost all the honors at the Bay District Annual National Rifle Association shoot at Richmond last week end. He won the following matches: 50-yard iron sight, 50-meter iron sight, 100-yard iron sight, 50-yard scope, 100-yard scope. Then to clinch matters, Jack took the iron sight aggregate, the grand aggregate, and third place in the scope aggregate. This total for the day in accumulated hardware was five silver medals, two gold medals and somewhere in the pile was one bronze medal. Total honors were eight medals for a fellow who just started this target shooting a little less than a year ago. More power to you, Jack.

It is generally conceded that due to the extremely heavy fishing for striped bass it is important that a long ranged conservation plan be worked up to perpetuate the species, in order to maintain such a continuous drain as is placed upon the stripers. However, before an effectual conservation plan can be put in operation it is necessary that all available information concerning general and migratory habits of the striped bass be secured.

In this regard the Division of Fish and Game of our state has within the past year tagged some 1900 striped bass of varying sizes and weights. The Division is extremely anxious to have returned to them as many tags as possible, together with all possible technical data regarding fish characteristics, i.e. weight, girth measurement, length, and location where fish is taken.

In an effort to stimulate the anglers into returning the tags and other information requested, the San Francisco Striped Bass Club is sponsoring a program contemplating public awards, wherein fishermen registering tags will be eligible to participate.

New Consumer Installment Credit Regulations Will Become Effective On Monday Morning, September 18th

The Board of Governors of the Federal Reserve System today issued the following press statement:

"Under the authority of the Defense Production Act of 1950, the Board of Governors today reinstituted regulation of consumer instalment credit through Regulation W effective at the opening of business September 18, 1950.

"The regulation covers automobile instalment credits of $5,000 and less and other instalment credits of $2,500 and less. Except that home improvement credits are now covered and terms are generally tightened, the regulation is in much the same form as the regulation which expired June 30, 1949.

"The limitations initially established are:

"Down payments of at least one-third, and maximum maturities of 21 months for automobiles.

"Down payment of at least 15 per cent, and maximum maturities of 18 months for appliances: Refrigerators, food freezers, radio or television sets, phonographs, cooking stoves, ranges, dishwashers, ironers, washing machines, clothes driers, sewing machines, suction cleaners, air conditioners and dehumidifiers.

"Down payments of at least 10 per cent, and 18 months maximum maturity for furniture and rugs.

"Down payments of at least 10 per cent, and 30 months maximum maturity for home repairs, alterations or improvements.

"Following the past policy of placing fewer restrictions on small credits, the new regulation does not contain down payment requirements for articles costing less than $100 although, unlike the former regulation, maturities are limited.

"Instalment loans for the purchase of any listed article carry the same limitations that apply to the instalment sale of the article. Other instalment loans are limited to a maximum maturity of 18 months.

"In establishing the initial terms the Board took into account the prevailing practices and terms in the trades affected. There has been a material relaxation of instalment credit terms during the past year or more, and the requirements of the regulation are substantially tighter than the terms now widely offered.

"In the automobile field the great majority of recent instalment sales of new cars and late model used cars are reported as having been financed on substantially easier terms, either as to down payments or maturities or both, than permitted by the new regulation.

"Similarly, many instalment sales of appliances and furniture are reported as having been made with down payments of 10 per cent or less; in many cases only token or no down payments have been required. Maturities of 24 months on instalment sales of such articles have been reported as widely prevalent with longer maturities offered in some cases.

"Consumer credit has undergone an unprecedented expansion, particularly in recent months. Under present conditions continued excessive growth of consumer instalment credit adds materially to inflationary pressures.

"The regulation of consumer credit is one of the fiscal, monetary and credit measures designed to restrain the inflationary pressures that result in higher prices and to facilitate diversion of critical material and manpower to production of defense needs as such diversion is required.

New Air Parcel Post Rates Effective November 1, 1950

Postmaster John F. Fixa announced today that revised rates for air parcel-post will go into effect on November 1, 1950. Mr. Fixa stated that rate adjustments are due to the increased costs of handling this class of mail.

At the present time the air parcel-post service gives the only speedy parcel service available to all points in the United States and its territories and possessions and to the armed services serving overseas. Air parcel-post may be received by or dispatched to any of the 42,000 post offices in the United States.

New Robes For Lutheran Church Choir Singers

The Lutheran Church of Our Savior, Garfield and Junipero Serra boulevard, will on Sunday, September 17, dedicate its new choir robes at the 11 a.m. worship service. The Rev. Robert G. Konzelman, B.D., pastor of the church, announces that purchase of these new black faille robes was made possible through the generous gifts of several of the members of the congregation.

For this festive occasion the choir, under the leadership of Mrs. Konzelman, will sing two anthems, "Be Thou My Vision" by Godfrey and "Teach Me To Pray" by Jewitt. Mrs. Helmut H. Golitz will be at the console of the Hammond organ.

Corpus Christi Parish Conduct Drive For Funds

There is a typically American fervor evident in the drive being conducted this month by the professional and business men of the Excelsior District who have joined efforts to raise funds for the rebuilding of Cropus Christi Church.

Sparked by the realization that the spiritual needs of their growing district cannot be satisfied in the present outmoded facilities of the church, the men some months ago formed the Professional and Business Men's Committee for the Corpus Christi Church Building and Youth Center Fund, Inc.

The committee is headed by Louis Mazzera, Sr. and includes such prominent San Franciscans as Michael Filippi, co-chairman and manager of the Excelsior branch, Bank of America; Joseph A. Jackson, attorney; Assemblyman Charles W. Meyers; Judge Edward F. O'Day; George R. Reilly, chairman, State Board of Equalization, and Dennis Franco, Bank of America executive. Other parishioners of the church are engaged in various phases of the fund drive.

In addition to rebuilding the church, the committee hopes to create a youth center to provide sorely needed recreational facilities for the youngsters of the district.

Tickets will be sold in this district September 21 at McGraw's Drug Store.

Rubbish Burning Legal Only Two Days A Week

It is unlawful to burn rubbish outdoors in Daly City except between the hours of 7 a.m. and 10 a.m. Wednesday and Saturday, Fire Chief Elmer Kennedy reminded all Daly City residents today.

When it is absolutely necessary to dispose of rubbish on other days, it is necessary for the resident to obtain a fire permit (at no cost) from the city. This may be done by calling Chief Kennedy at PLaza 5-5959.

The burning ordinance was passed last April to protect all residents from the smoke and soot resulting from bonfires lighted at every hour of the week.

DC Man Taken In SF Bookie Raid

James Deignan, 26 Hillside drive, is being questioned today by San Francisco police on charges of his possessing lottery tickets.

The Daly City man was taken into custody at a cigar store next to an alleged horse parlor at 1884 Haight street where officers arrested three men, police allegedly found a wire tap to a telephone leading to Deignan's headquarters.

The three prisoners were also booked on suspicion of wire tapping, a felony, when the hookup between their telephone and the one in Deignan's place of employment was discovered.

YWCA Opens Fall Terms Sept. 19

The Young Women's Christian Association of San Francisco opens its new fall term on September 19 with a variety of 32 different classes and eight young adult clubs being offered!

Courses, given at 620 Sutter street, include creative workshops, a "How to Do" series on Tuesday evenings, dancing — modern ballet, social or square dancing, Hawaiian — exercises, sports, charm classes, and coed activities.

Something new in creative work is Puppetry with Geri, a professional puppeteer. The Puppet Theatre Workshop on Monday evenings features the making of puppets, writing scripts, and presenting shows. It's an interesting and rewarding hobby.

Leathercraft is another new course open to fellows and girls. Students will learn to make sandals, purses, unusual belts, and other accessories under the expert guidance of Eileen Bolz, leathercraft instructor.

The Tuesday evening series of "How to Do" introduces new skills —How to Make Gloves, How to Make Lampshades, How to Knit, How to Plan Your Wardrobe, How to Sew, How to Play Bridge. Each course has well-known instructors in the field.

Modern Ballet has been added to the Dance group being offered this fall. Peg Duggar will instruct the 45-minute classes on Monday evenings in fundamental body building exercises, dance techniques, coordination, and the principles of choreography.

"Stay-Slim Gym" is a new exercise class designed for those who wish to keep their figures slim and flexible. Given on Tuesday evenings at 8:15 o'clock, it will especially appeal to the business girl and to the young mother who can leave father baby-sitting for the evening.

A Vocational Guidance Clinic is being offered for young employed women (18 to 35 years). Twelve sessions under the supervision of Helen Dobbie, counselor, are given in cooperation with the San Francisco Adult School. This outstanding group guidance clinic provides interest and ability tests, helps in how to apply for jobs, individual interviews and counseling.

Registration for all courses is now in progress at the YWCA, 620 Sutter street. Ask for the Fall Program folder giving full details of all activities.

V.F.W. Picnic Was Big Success

The first annual picnic of Lake Merced Post and Auxiliary 9921 was acclaimed a big success. Over 250 attended this affair in the sunny park with all its grand features.

The committee is to be congratulated for its efforts in making everybody feel at home and neighborly. To the chairmen and women of this committee, Comrades and Sisters Lawrence Magoon, Anthony Stankus, and Lewis Heim, a nod of appreciation and thanks.

Feature events of the afternoon were sack races for the children and women, watermelon contest and a softball game for the gents. The food was scrumptuous (slang for tasty, fine) and the beverages lasted throughout the afternoon.

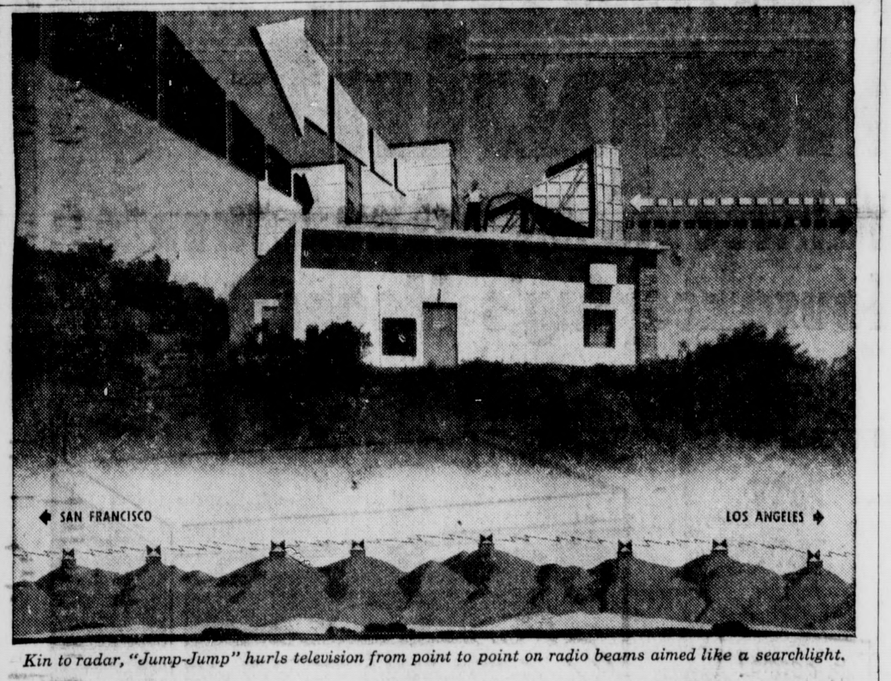

We hope next year to continue with our program of good times for our comrades, sisters, neighbors and friends at our second annual picnic. Hope to see you all then

Kin to radar, "Jump-Jump" hurls television from point to point on radio beams aimed like a searchlight.

WEST'S FIRST TELEVISION NETWORK

Relay system to operate between San Francisco and Los Angeles

1. Amplifying equipment like this is connected with the hornlike antennas above to relay television programs or long distance telephone calls from one part of the country to another. Engineers call it micro-wave...for it uses high-frequency radio waves, and it gets its nickname, "Jump-Jump," because the beams leap-frog between relay stations located on mountains 28 to 65 miles apart.

2. Television programs can be relayed from one point to another by micro-wave or by coaxial cable. The first leg of a Western television network will begin operating between San Francisco and Los Angeles September 15 over the newly-completed "Jump-Jump" system. And we're going ahead with surveys and experiments to extend the television network to other areas of the West.

3. The research which produced this micro-wave system was conducted in Bell Telephone Laboratories ...originators of so many electronic developments. Hundreds of them have led to better telephone service at lower cost...and have played a major part in making your telephone the big value it is today. For in spite of rising prices, telephone rates have gone up much less than our costs of providing service. On the average, our prices have gone up less than half as much as the cost of living generally.

Legalized Gambling For State; 10 Other Propositions Up To Voters

Principal proposition on the November 7 general election will be whether or not to legalize gambling in California.

There will be 10 other propositions of varying importance for voters to consider, Secretary of State Frank M. Jordan announced today.

The gambling initiative is expected to be the most hotly disputed measure. It would legalize slot machines, off-track bookmaking, lotteries and other forms of wagering and establish a five-member commission to administer the program.

Another initiative would eliminate all personal property taxation. The third would require an election in cities and counties where public housing projects are contemplated.

The proposed constitutional amendments would:

1. Exempt temporary employes of district agricultural associations and stewards and veterinarians of the state horse racing board from civil service.

2. Reorganize municipal and justice courts.

3. Allow legislators to hold office and serve as members of boards or commissions which allocate funds to local or state agencies.

4. Permit a person who moves from one county to another within 90 days before an election to vote in the original county.

5. Prohibit initiative constitutional amendments which name individuals to public office. (As proposition 4 gave Mrs. Myrtle Williams the job of state welfare director.)

6. Repeal the prohibition against increasing the salaries of county, twonship and municipal officials during their term of office.

7. Amend the land title law to provide for withdrawal of registration of title under the law and for establishment of record of title in the recorder's office.

8. Permit blind persons to qualify for licenses to practice chiropractic.

Jordan said no arguments have been filed for No. 1 and no arguments have been filed against any of the amendments except Nos. 2 and 5. He invited submission by July 10 of arguments for inclusion in the pamphlets distributed to voters.

SOCIAL SECURITY

"Family relationship" is important in getting benefits under the old-age and survivors insurance program.

Thousands of persons drawing social security payments have never worked a day in covered employment. They are wives, widows, children and parents of people who did work and became insured.

They receive benefits because of their relationship to the husband, father, or child. Therefore, members of your family, though not working in employment covered by the Social Security Act, have a stake in social security because of their relationship to you.

When a man, age 65 or older, receives old-age insurance payments, his wife (at age 65) may also draw benefits because of her relationship.

Upon the death of an insured man, his widow and children may be eligible for death benefits, by reason of their relationship to the deceased.

There are also cases where benefits are paid to the aged, dependent parents of a worker who dies—again because of their relationship.

In the usual case, proof of relationship is needed to complete a social security claim. Widows prove their relationship to their husband by showing their marriage certificate. Children prove their relationship to the father, and parents their relationship to the child, by submitting birth certificates.

But, don't delay filing a claim just because you don't happen to have these documents. Signing an application protects your rights, and we can assist you later in obtaining the proofs you need.

PEDESTRIAN SAFETY ZONES

Don't zip by these pedestrian safety zones at undiminished speed, advises the National Automobile Club. You don't have to come to a halt, but you do have to proceed only at such speed as will permit you full control of your car in the face of any exigency that may arise.

PATIENCE PAYS

When you are delayed by a car making a turn at an intersection, be patient, the California State Automobile Association recommends. If you swing out to get around the turning car, you may swerve into the path of an oncoming vehicle.

Why Bill Bibb and most P. G. and E. people like their jobs

W. Y. "Bill" Bibb began as an errand boy 30 years ago, is now a foreman in the Fresno Transformer Repair Shop. While getting ahead with P. G. and E., Bill took time to become a fine chef, get in some hunting and fishing, manage an amateur baseball club.

Edward M. Linnell, Fall River Mills, California, was a blacksmith and welder with us before he retired on a pension. Ed is famous for his work with corrective horseshoes, and still runs a small forge in back of his home.

The fact that P. G. and E. people like their jobs is one reason why they do their jobs well. And that's important to every community we serve.

The job they do has been greatly responsible for keeping your gas and electric rates among the lowest in the nation. It's helped put an annual payroll of nearly $70 million into Northern and Central California. And from the projects P. G. and E. people have built come federal, state, county and local taxes amounting to $40,278,000 in 1949.

And, of course, their teamwork has enabled us to add 1,156,400 new horsepower since the war. By this time next year our total capacity will be nearly 4,000,000 horsepower—ample for our needs today, a good base to build on for the growing years ahead.

Bill Johnston, estimator in our Sonora office, has been with us eight years—with time out to fight a war. His job is surveying farms for electrification. Bill is enrolled in classroom courses open to all employees—a young man on his way up.

Virginia E. Harris, clerk in the General Office Engineering Department, was a pretty sick girl for two months last winter. But P. G. and E.'s cooperative Benefit Plan took care of practically all her expenses. And she's planning to catch up on the skiing she missed last season when the first good snow hits the hills.

The R. J. Moores—he's a plant foreman in Martinez—are one of the thousands of P. G. and E. families who enjoy the summer camps, swimming pools and clubhouses maintained for P. G. and E. people.

Disabled Vets Build Up Fine Production Record

Industries expanding to meet Defense contracts were reminded by Veterans Administration of a first-rate source of manpower, ready and willing to train for new skills — the nation's disabled veterans.

Survey after survey disclosed that these men, when properly placed, prove to be at least as good workers as their able-bodied fellow employees.

In fact, one major study showed that the handicapped suffer fewer serious accidents and build up better production records than do those without physical impairments.

And yet, today—five years after V-J Day — thousands of disabled World War II veterans everywhere in the country still are looking just for an opportunity to prove themselves.

A federally-sponsored training program is at their disposal: Public Law 16, the Vocational Rehabilitation Act. But they need a place to train.

Employers who, because of increased orders, now find themselves in a position to train new workers are urged by VA to remember America's disabled ex-servicemen.

A call to the nearest VA field office will produce full details as to how to go about taking on handicapped veterans under Public Law 16.

WHEN PARKING PARALLEL

Did you ever analyze your mistakes in parallel parking from the standpoint of determining what is the most common blunder? Offhand, points out the National Automobile Club, the average motorist probably would say that it was his failure to get close enough to the car ahead of the space for which he is shooting. That is the second most common mistake, however. The first is failure to pull ahead far enough.

S.F. To Get New Garage

A combination office building and garage to accommodate 450 automobiles will be erected in San Francisco by Barrett Garages, Inc., it was announced this week.

The new structure will occupy the historic Lick Block in the heart of the financial district, on Lick Place between Sutter and Post streets. Tentative plans call for a steel and concrete office building with stores on the ground floor and upper floors devoted to parking.

Lick Block got its name from Lick House, a famed hostelry built there by James Lick in 1875. It was destroped in the earthquake and fire of 1906. Razing of the present Lick Place structure will begin shortly.

School Days, Safe Days

As schools reopen this month, the California State Automobile Association urges drivers to watch out for children; and parents to tell youngsters to watch out for automobiles. Teachers will do their part by setting up School Safety Patrols. Cooperation of drivers, parents and teachers can make School Days good old Golden Rule days for both motorists and children.

Name Committee To Head Armed Forces Assoc. Serv.

George J. Davis, of the San Francisco Water Co., Millbrae, former vice-president of the Community Chest of San Mateo county, Louis B. DeMatteis, district attorney of San Mateo county, and Mrs. Jack Charnow, San Mateo, have been named to head the local committee of the Associated Services of the Armed Forces. The organization of the Associated Services has been stimulated to meet a present need which is touching every family in America today, and is being operated through the joint efforts of the Y.M.C.A., the National Catholic Community Service and the National Jewish Welfare Board. There are 101 active units operated by the Associated Services functioning today in communities near military posts.

Four aspects of service life will keynote the administration of the Associated Services, serving the spiritual religious social welfare and educational needs of the men and women of the armed forces. Plans are being made to bring up the strength of the present 101 Clubs and area programs to reopen former U.S.O. facilities as needed, and to extend services to new areas.

Quoting from a release received from the headquarters in New York: "This is no long range plan. There is a need NOW to reinforce programs in the Pacific, Alaska and West Coast areas, and to expand as needed by the enlargement of our armed services.

Night Course In Sunday School Teaching Is Offered

Baptist pastors of the city have announced a night course in Sunday school teaching and administration to open September 26 at the San Francisco Baptist college, 121 Haight street. Members of other denominations also have been invited to attend.

The night classes, designed especially for employed persons or busy housewives, will be held Tuesday nights for twelve weeks. Registration is September 19.

The classes are part of the college's program to supply trained Christian workers for California's rapidly growing population, Dr. Lewis J. Julianel, executive vice president, said. Besides Sunday school training there will be courses in the Bible, church history, doctrine and related subjects.

"Our conviction is that a strong Sunday school is one of the best answers to juvenile delinquency," Dean Frederick J. Berger said. "We invite earnest Christian workers from all churches in the bay area to take advantage of this specialized help toward that end.

More than 100,000 spectators are expected to view the show, which will include a $250,000 display of Thomas A. Edison's original inventions, according to Bennett.

Necessary Steps For G-I Home Loans Explained

Floyd D. Granger, veterans service officer, San Mateo county, recommends that veterans planning to take advantage of G. I. Loan benefits for the purchase of a home in the near future, file an application for a certificate of eligibility with the Veterans Administration at least two month prior to negotiating the purchase as it takes approximately eight weeks to process the application.

This is due to the fact that the application must be referred to the Central Office in Washington before final authorization for issuance of a certificate is authorized. With the certificate in his possession, the veteran saves at least two months' time when he is ready to proceed in the purchase of a home.

His original discharge and separation papers must accompany his application, Granger said. He states that application may be made personally to the Loan Guaranty Division at 49 4th street, San Francisco, where he will be issued a receipt for his discharge papers an dthe necessary forms completed by the Veterans Administration representative at that place.

Should the discharge be recorded, the Veterans Service Office will send the discharge to the Veterans Administration for him. The original discharge and certificate of eligibility will be returned direct to the veteran by registered mail.

U. S MARINES HAUNT OLD TRAILS IN KOREA—When the First Marine Division entered combat near Pusan it marked the fifth time in 80 years that the Leathernecks have landed on Korea for the protection of American interests.

Their first landing was on May 21, 1871. The American minister to China had opened negotiations to permit United States sailors shipwrecked on Korean shores to receive sanctuary and help from the Koreans. During the negotiation a survey party under direction of Admiral John Rodgers U. S. N., then commanding the Asiatic squadron, was attacked by the native garrison of the Salee river forts and citadel (Seoul).

Admiral Rodgers demanded an explanation and gave the Koreans 10 days in which to reply. Receiving no answer, he put a force of Marines and sailors ashore on June 10 and captured the citadel. The Marines killed 250 Koreans. One Marine was killed and one was wounded.

This early amphibious landing by the Marines is graphically depicted in a painting by John Clymer, a New York artist. The canvas hangs in the headquarters of General Clifton N. Cates, commandant of the Marine Corps. Clymer's work which so faithfully depicts the uniforms and armament of the Marines of 80 years ago is reproduced above. Superimposed is a photograph of present-day Marine fighters. Note the camouflaged helmet.

Marines were landed to protect the American legation in Korea in 1888 and again in 1894.

SF-LA TV Link Opens Sept. 15

A gala television network show, drawing acts from San Francisco and Los Angeles, will inaugurate completion of the microwave radio system connecting the two cities on Friday, September 15, it was announced here this week.

Opening of the system will mark the first time that a network program has been visible on Bay area television screens.

The California system probably will be tied in late next year or early in 1952 with the transcontinental radio relay system now being extended from Chicago by way of Omaha, Denver and Salt Lake City to San Francisco.

The radio relay between San Francisco and Los Angeles consists of eight "repeater" stations constructed on mountain tops rimming the west side of the San Joaquin Valley. The system terminates at stations on the headquarters building of the telephone company here and a similar building in Los Angeles.

The repeater stations will pick up the microwave beams, strengthen them and shoot them on to the next station in line. Since the beams travel on a direct "light of sight," they do not follow the curvature of the earth or bend around obstructions in their way.

When the beams are picked up on the horns of the station, however, they can be directed into a wave guide or hollow tube which routes them through the special repeater apparatus in the buildings atop the mountains, and then up through the transmitting horns on the roof.

Beginning on Mt. Diablo in Contra Costa county, the series of repeater stations extend southward to locations on Mt. Oso, Panoche Hill, Joaquin Ridge, Pyramid Hills, Temblor Range, Mt. Tehachapi and Oat Mountain.

SAFE DISTANCE

Always maintain a safe braking distance between your car and the one ahead, urges the California State Automobile Association. Even though your brakes may be good, the brakes on the vehicle you are following may be better. Be prepared for an emergency stop by the driver ahead, who may see a danger not visible to you.

PERPETUAL ICE CAVES

Perpetual ice caves are reported by the National Automobile Club to be found in western New Mexico near the town of Grants, on U. S. Highway 66.

STILL GOOD PRACTICE

Dropping the crankcase at least once a year and having all sludge removed from the bottom and all dirt from the pump strainer still is a good idea in maintenance, declares the National Automobile Club. While the case is down, it will pay to have the mechanic inspect the main and connecting rod bearings for looseness.

Slate S.M.J.C. Adult Center Program To Start September 18

With classes already started in the day college at San Mateo Junior College, the adult center program will get under way Monday evening. Nearly two hundred sections or classes are open to the men and women of this area, with some of the sections meeting by day and many more in the evening.

Registration of the adults is now going on and will continue next week during the day and in the evening at the Baldwin campus of the college. Last year over six thousand men and women took advantage of the extensive program offered and either learned new subject matter that would help them in their work, or they brushed up on information or skills they needed, or they attended sections not conected with their business interests.

Schedules of the adult center offerings are to be had at the Baldwin campus.

Community Hall of the adult center will open its fall term series of illustrated lectures Monday evening, September 18, with Marguerite Bogman lecturing and showing color films on Japan. "Jeeping Through Japan" is her topic. She was in Japan for three years. A week later the program will deal with Switzerland and Belgium. These programs, held in the college auditorium at 7:30, are open to the public with no charge.

With the day college having been operating for several days, the student leaders have scheduled some of their fall term activities. This Friday evening the college will have its first dance of the season in the Baldwin gym with an orchestra playing from nine to twelve. The Associated Women Students will welcome the new women to college with a luncheon next week. Meanwhile football practice is well under way for the men students.

Sheridan PTA To Meet September 19

Sheridan P-TA will hold its first meeting of the fall term on Tuesday, September 19, at 1 p.m. in Room 17 at Sheridan school.

The film "Human Growth" will be shown and is to be explained by Mrs. Frances Miller.

Miss Esther Bahls, principal, will be on hand to welcome all parents. Sheridan school has several new faculty members, so do come and get acquainted.

Following the meeting, refreshments will be served by our new hospitality chairman, Mrs. Cornelius Kemp.

Sheridan P-TA served coffee and cake to about seventy parents registering their children at the Sheridan school, when school opened on September 6.

Pari-Mutuel Racing Shows Ten Per Cent Drop

A drop of more than ten per cent in returns from pari-mutuel horse racing to the State of California was reported for the fiscal year ending June 30, State Controller Thomas H. Kuchel announced today.

The State's revenue totaled $14,282,592, a decrease of $1,719,216 over the previous fiscal year.

Largest contributor was the Santa Anita track, which paid in $4,378,907, followed by $2,178,810 from Tanforan; $2,070,934 from Hollywood Park; $1,519,534 from Golden Gate Fields; $1,174,635 from Del Mar; $1,169,530 from Bay Meadows and $1,790,242 from various associations, the State, county and district fairs.

New Interest Noted In Agricultural Exhibit At Fair

New interest has been aroused in agricultural exhibits at the 1950 San Mateo County Fair and Floral Fiesta because of the extensive and interesting use of the fairyland theme, according to Max Leonard, agricultural commissioner and director.

Crowds have been milling about beans, artichokes, beeswax and other such crops because fairies, nursery rhymes and quaint characters are made a part of the exhibits. Here are the winners: Community or organization class, $325 premium, won by Half Moon Bay using an adaption of the Peter Rabbit story; second for 300 to East Palo Alto Grange with Hansel and Gretel scene; third for $275 to Pescadero N.D.G.W. with Jack and the Beanstalk exhibit.

Sheriff James McGrath Calls For Volunteers To Serve In Law Enforcement Arm Of Civilian Defense

Sheriff James J. McGrath today issued a county-wide appeal for volunteers to serve in the law enforcement arm of the county's civilian defense program. The sheriff's appeal followed formation of a county co-ordinating committee between law enforcement and Red Cross activities.

That committee includes Deputy Sheriff Frank B. Marlowe, civilian defense director for the sheriff; Chief Stanley D. Wood of the Redwood City police department; Chief R. C. (Jack) Theuer, Burlingame, and Captain E. T. Cassell, head of the California Highway Patrol in San Mateo county. The call for volunteers was decided upon at a meeting held in the courthouse at Redwood City.

In his call for volunteers to be auxiliary policemen, the sheriff said he makes particular appeal to veterans organizations for able-bodied men with military experience. He asked that members of the Disabled American Veterans, the Veterans of Foreign Wars, the American Legion, American Veterans of World War II and others respond and fill out the application blanks on file in his office. The sheriff explained it will be necessary for all applicants to come to his office opposite the courthouse in Redwood City to register, so that they may be fingerprinted and photographed in case of needed identification. The hours of application, he added, will be between 8 a.m. and 9 p.m.

From civilian ranks in the county the sheriff requested men who have had previous civilian defense experience, or are experienced in the use of firearms and with law enforcement activity, or both. He pointed out he is currently preparing a budget he will submit to the supervisors for their approval. The budget will provide arms, equipment and training for a picked squad of 100 men as auxiliary police to work in helping the sheriff's present staff in case of emergency.

Sheriff McGrath declared that, at the request of Sheriff H. P. Gleason, chairman of the Governor's Law Enforcement Advisory Committee, he has contacted Senator William Knowland and Congressman Jack Anderson in regard to draft deferment for police officers. The sheriff added it was the attitude of the Governor's Committee that this especially is a target area, with strong possibilities of sabotage, and that trained and experienced police officers should be draft deferred here because of their urgent need.
